

Role:	GM/AGM-Production
Functional Area:	Planning, Production, Maintenance, Quality
Experience:	10 - 16 Years
Location:	Hyderabad
Compensation:	Compensation will not be a constraint for the right person
Education:	Graduate / Diploma in Mechanical (or) Production Engineering
Posted Date:	6 June 2011

Desired Candidate Profile

The ideal person should be a mechanical (or) production engineer with at least 10 years of experience with a reputed manufacturing company engaged in fabrication of medium and heavy bulk material handling equipment (crushers, screw conveyors, bucket elevators, etc.) catering to industries like power, steel, and cement sectors. The candidate should have extensive knowledge and experience in welding (GMAW, FCAW, SMAW & TIG). Experience and knowledge in surface preparation and painting will be an added advantage. The candidate must have good oral and written communication skills and proven leadership qualities.

Job Description

- Overall in charge of Planning, Production, Quality and Maintenance
- Required to do the manpower planning with respect to individual potential for execution of the assignments. Should have headed of a team of technical people . Should have Team Building Skills & should be able to maintain high order of discipline in the team
- Planning and preparation of work schedules on a daily basis and overall in charge of communication with the Head Office
- Must possess excellent communication & leadership skills, apart from technical expertise.
- Must be able to impart training to subordinates and be willing to put forth and share ideas for improvement with the top management